A physician was summoned from Sheffield, but nothing could be done to save the little sufferer's life and she passed away at six o'clock Monday evening. Mrs. Thornton was also severely burned about the bands. It is not known from what cause the child's clothing became ignited. Mr. Thornton has resided on Tionests creek for several years and is well known to the people of that section. Mrs. Thorn ton is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Miller of Hickory township. The many friends of the family will sympathize with them in this sad affliction. The dead child was the second youngest of a arge family of children.

The funeral services take place today, with interment at East Hickory.

RECENT DEATHS.

DICKRAGER. John Henry Dickrager, eldest son of a family of four children, born to Detrick city of Pittsburg, Pa., December 7, 1851. Hickory township, October 10, 1909, aged 57 years ten months and three days. In the year 1861 he came with his parents to the family bemestead on German Hill, where he attended the common schools and received a liberal education. After becoming of age he learned the stone mason's trade, but since the year 1890 he has resided upon his farm near the Posey Fields in Hickory township and has followed the occupation of a farmer. In the year 1900, he was married to Miss Marv Frill, who with a tamily of two children, Curtis and Ruth, are left to mourn the loss of a kind husband and a good father. He is also survived by two brothers and one sister as follows: Mrs. Mary Weingard and Fred Dickrager, of German Some three years ago his health failed him, and he grew worse until finally his sufferings were relieved by death at the time mentioned. Funeral services were conducted at his late home by Rev. L. R. Phipps on Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock, after which the body was laid to rest in the Zuendel church yard.

W. R. C. District Convention.

The thirteenth annual convention of District No. 4, composed of Corps Nos. 4, 5, 13, 28, 32, 74, 75, 85, 89, 90, 130, 137 and 138, met at Tidioute, Pa., Thursday, Oct. 7, 1909, the corps being well represented by a number of delegates. The morning session was an open one, called to order and presided over in a very able manner by the Senior Vice President, Mrs. Maud Thompson, in the absence of the President, Mrs. Wilbur. We had with us our Department President, Mrs. Carrington, Department Secretary, Mrs. Lynch, and several other department officers. The enjoyed by all. The ladies of Corps No, taken up, which was very interesting to again invited, along with their Post, to a banquet never to be forgotten by those who attended. There was a public in stallation in the evening of the following Vice President, Miss Hains, St. Marys; 137, Tionesta. Following this we enjoyed some fine speeches by department officers and the comrades, and some fine old songs were sung by the comrades This was a convention to be remembered by all. It was very barmonious in every detail. We all left for our different homes feeling it was good to have been there. The ladies of No. 5 were disappointed that there were not more of us Those of us who were there are very grateful for the hospitality Corps No. showed us and are all looking forward when we shall be so royally entertained again. The convention will be beld in Bradford next year, and may the Great Commander of us all bless and be with us in our noble work of the W. R. C. DELLA H. CANFIELD, Press Cor.

Economy

Is a good thing in buying clothes; but don't think real economy means low price. Here are the best clothes you can possibly get for the money you invest. The most noted tailors of the country made them; many are the famous Adler-Rochester clothes. The designs show robust originality for young chaps; and more conservative beauty for men not so young.

You'll like the new, handsome, 1910 fabrics; they're all of tested highquality. This means more than a good wearing suit; the garments hold their shape and keep their crisp, "new" look.

These suits were made by hand by the most expert tailors; and it's this perfect workmanship that gives the garments their clean cut, finished style. Prices are $10, $12, $15, $18, $20 and $25.
